NAILS AND CUTLERY.

No Definite Rates Fixed by Tariff

publican tariff makers spent another day considering the schedule of manu-factures of iron and steel, Nails and cutiery were the divisions of the schedule which engaged their attention, but no delimite rates upon these articles were fixed. The committee decided tentatively to put the rate on nails at about one-fourth of the McKinley rates and to make it specific. Even the Wilton rates on mails are, in the minds of the committee, practically probibitive, and analority of the Republicans expressed the opinion that nails can be made so cheaply in the sastern states that no duty its necessary. The Pacific Coast, however, on account of foreign competition seemed to need protection, and the duty agreed upon will be for the benefit of the coast. utlery were the divisions of the schedule of the coast.

No definite action on cuttlery was discussed, but it was decided to make a rectification of the division of the schedule, and fix specific rates which will be materially higher than the present advalorem duties on outlery.

HELL IS HOT.

No Californian needs to be told that his state is a remarkable one. That is a fact well known far beyond the borders of the commonwealth. In point of glorione climate, mineral and agricultura one climate, mineral and agricultural wealth and many other things California stands peerless among the sisterhood of states, but the fact will come somewhat as a surprise that from her judiciary has come a decision more startling and farreaching than has hitherto been avolved from the legal wisdom of the ages.

reaching than has bither to been avolved from the legal wisdom of the ages. Like a fish of lightning from a clear sky this decision comes from Lake county, that Switzerland of America lying midway between the Pacific ocean and the Sacramento river, and hitherto and the Sacramento river, and hitherto more noted for the number and variety of smells and tastes found in her min-eral springs than for her judicial love. The superior court of Lake county has judicially determined that hellfire is a literal, sizzling fact, and that hell is not a fit place for a powder house. This important decision was roudered in one mportant decision was rendered in order the filthe most interesting cases ever tried to the state, the following details of which are gleaned from the columns o behind him.

Mrs. Sherwood consulted a lawyer and Mrs. Sherwood consulted a lawyer and sued of man. Kyle for slander, saking pittod damagee. Complainant est fortied last Kyle's remark was alanderous besue it imputed an entire absence of qualifications in Mrs. Sherwood for her qualifications achood toacher. This com-logically followed that "Spec" became slanderous.

Defaniant's attorney demurred to the compinion on the ground that it did not state a cause of action in that it did not spear that hell was an improper place for a powder factory; that the worst that could be said of hell was that it is a "place of torment;" that it contained no heat whatever and night therefore he an excellent place for a powder house or a cold-storage factory.

The plaintiff's attorage directed the attention of the court to the "Sermion on the Mount" and pointed out in the dra." Hell fire! There is the very thing itself. The court recognized the Sermon on the Mount as giving authentic information regarding the presence of fire in hell, and held that, all things considered, hell certainly was not a fit place for a powder house. Such being the case, in the opinion of the court, kiple's remark was slanderous per ar and therefore actionable. The issue being thus joined, the case went to trial.

Mrs. Sherwood carried the day with flying colors. The jury rendered a verdict awarding her damages in the full amount seked.

Now that the Lake county decision only lacks the confirmation of the su-preme court to make hell fire a judicially presse court to make ior everybody con-established fact for everybody con-cerned, it may reasonably be expected cerned, it may reasonably no expectate that the disposition to trifle with the department of the future state will show hich precindes the possible existence of a powder house is calculated to in-spire terror in the most reckless.

spire terror in the most recursion.

In passing it may be said regarding the merits of the decision that it has a decidedly more substantial foundation. than some other examples of legal wis-tion that are accepted without question. That hell is a hot place must stand as a judicial fact in this state upless the supreme court decides differently.

The information that hacteris are pretty nice things to have in butter will not be received with layor by the public. It is all right enough if people want bacteria, but how much better it would be to keep the butter on one plate and the bacteria, on another. Then people could say "Please pass the butter" or "Please pass the bacteria," as they might prefer. And, in any event, would it not be nicer to let individuals mix thoir butter and lacteria to suit themselves? Keep the buss on the table in a caparate diels, as sait and pepper are kept, and let the oater put in just as many bugs as cuit his palate. Reophe differ so in taste that the number of bacteris Brown would want would be no interest of the much of bacteria Brown would want would be no interest of the writer's butter; he never did care much for bugs anyway.

In The Martian, Die Maurier tells of the sort of food supplied at French hearding schools, and by no ments overrates its superior excellence. In no other country outside of France does the natrition of growing youth receive higher consideration. If the meals served at schools there be compared with those given at similar institutions in England, the merit of the Franch system will be apparent. The simple first breakfast of coffee and rolls, the second consisting of hors d'couvres, a dish of meat or fish, one vegetable, said and a sweet, and the dinner at 6 o'clock of similar composition, with the addition of soop, supply just what is needed to encourage mental effort and satisfy physical well being. In England an entriely different system is in vegue. Breakfast at an English boarding school is a substantial meal, served at 7 o'clock. In meat cases it consists of this, ham or beaon, eggs and Boarding School Fo

Less irrigation has lowered the water level, and where this has been supplemented by thorough cultivation very gratifying results have followed. It will be well worth the while of every farmer in the county to attend the institute. The partial program appearing in this morning? Refrontican sliowes that a variety of important subjects will be considered by people who are capable of treating them with practical intelligence.

Annow a baseball gun has been invanted which is guaranteed to knock two-inch planks from the backstop when fired from the pitcher's stand and rattle the braveat bateman of them all. It is said to be for practice purposes only, which is entirely probable in view of the unrollability of modern armorplate and the difficulty that would attend its use in making the Kelly slide.

I trust that I am one of the last persons in the world to uploid a pupil in insubardination. I am convinced that in about 999 cases out of 1000 when there is trouble brewen teacher and pupil, it is the fault of the latter. I base this opinion on considerable observation and experience in my younger days. Many a whisping fisal I in school, but I remember only one that his the wrong mark, and that may be said to have been compensated by a thousand whispings I deserved but did not receive. So when you complain of the treatment that your child has received from a teacher, you need not ordinarily expect much sympathy from me in your plaint.

But if the story that comes from Kingsbur of Principal Updyke's analton a Reyvar-old toy be true, I judge that the lim he received was not uniaspiled. I think that pupilise meed not as yet be considered a heacher is pastined in attribute a teacher is pushined in attribute a trial with his filet. I take it that it is a matter of simple justice to A. B. Butler to announce that he pays some bills. Unfortunately, however, those that are sired in court, and that most advertise him, are not the ones that he pays; they are the other ones. And it he court-records in dicate that these "other ones" are rather frequent—well, if Mr. Butler and his creditors can stand it, the rest of usurely can. Very litrly, too, the people who are Mr. Butler do it under a misurely can. Very litrly, too, the people who are Mr. Butler do it under a misurely can. Very litrly, too, the people money, when in reality he does not. Some people are ant to be time money, when in reality he does not. Some people are ant to be time memory against the Expesitor—and Butler very likely is a case of that kind. And, by the way, if your Expesitor—any out take it—conces to you rather damp in these days, the case will explain the fact; it is the dows on the ink that do it. But I began this pergraph merely to remark that the bills Mr. Butler pays are not the ones that are taken into court, and I seem to have said it.

That celebrated non-partiesn move That celebrated non-partisan move-ment for "heavy taxpayers" appears to be a lulu. T. O. White holds the crit-ter while O. J. Woodward twists its tail, and then Woodward holds it while White twists its tail. If the animal then refuses to roar, it must be because its laryur is out of order, and Measra. White and Woodward cannot be blamed for that. If it ever does roar, though, it will be time for taxpayers who are not "heavy" to fall back and shudder. It is said to be a terrible roarer when it gets started. Its hand-painted stripes, too, are indicative of iercelty. But what need it matter to us, who are not "heavy taxpayers"?

POSED TO IT.

The Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting last night. President Louis Commerce held its regular monthly meeting last night. President Louis Combellinger presided. There were present: Alex Goldstein, John O. Nourse, Louis Einstein, T. C. White, Loophil Gundelfinger, John McMullin, John Retchman, Arthur R. Brigge, D. J. Guggenbine, Wilson Underhils and Charles F. Wyer.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, Mr. Nourse, chairman of the committe appointed to arrange this county's exhibit for the Humburg exposition, reported that the contributions had been collected and packed. The display was not as large as had been expected. Several agreements who had promised Secretary Flicher of the state board, upon his visit to Freene a few months ago, to ashate in getting up an exhibit had failed to do so. The small display precursed will be sent to the state board, upon his visit to Freene a few months ago, to ashate in getting up an exhibit had failed to do so. The small display precursed will be sent to the state board, with the request that it be included in the general state exhibit. Those who constituted the committee and acted with Mr. Nourse in this matter were A. Gartennian band W. D. Noble of the chamber, and Mesers. Thomas H. Jynch, Carl McLaughlin and W. F. The case has assumed a still more complicated aspect, and it seems impossible to get at the true state of affairs. The specific charge against Jackson is the embezzlement from Mrs. Rebecca A. Rawline of $101, money which had been paid him as her agent, but for which he failed to give an accounting. The prosecution, however, introduced evidence to show fraud in general in the offendant's transactions with the wildow's money. The prosecution in the trial of Sam Jack

When Attorney Short, for the defendant, made an objection yesterday aftermon to testimony not bearing directly upon Jackson's handling of the $104 in the specific charge, but connected with another transaction entirely, the court overruled it. 'It noke as if we were trying another little case on the side," remarked the attorney.

"Yas," replied Judge Webb; "it seems as if we are having to try seversicases to get at this one.

Mrs. Rawline remuned her testimony when court convened yesterlay morning. Nothing further of importance was brought out. She stated that the total amount of money she had seenred from the ineutrance on her husband's life and turned over by her to Jackson, her manager, we $40,957.78 in cash. Out of this she had received $150 a month allowed her out of the estate by the court, which amount was later increased to $160. Besides this she had received at the large sum she had left exclusively in the attorney's charge.

Henry Pero was next called to the

After the suit had been settled the witness went to Jackson to get a release of the mortgage. The atterney had asked him to "walt a bit, as he was in April, 1890, when Jackson was about to render an accounting of Mrs. Rawlins' affairs to bet." This was he had to render an accounting of Mrs. Rawlins' affairs to bet." Captain N. L. Allen testified concerning a loan made by Jackson of Mrs. Rawlins' affairs to bet." Captain N. L. Allen testified concerning a loan made by Jackson of Mrs. Rawlins' affairs to bet. The work of the note was $450, and it was secured by a mortgage on some property in Watts valley. Although the note was drawn for $150, Clark and Mrs. Coroton were docked $55 by Jackson and given only $100.

John Reichman testified that while cashier of the Farmers' Bank, he had in October, 1860, upon the order of Jackson, transferred $200 to Mrs. Rawlins' account. This point was brought out by the defense.

Loule Gundeltinger had, as a friend of Mrs. Rawlins, looked over the accounting mide to her by Jackson when each the entry in the book of "$1700 tomal to Henny Parc." He had also found the discrepancy between the $200, the sum of the twa small nortgages and the entry of $1700 to Mrs. Rawlins' credit.

I. Propovich testified regarding three loans made to him by Jackson, of $750, $300 and $400 researching made by the defendant in April, 1896.

The Pero itom had bought a piece of property on which Jackson had forecomed nurrisage for Mrs. Rawlins.

Valley Press Association To Be Formed. THEY WILL MEET IN FRESNO Promotion of the Interests of San Joaquin Valley the Object.

EDITORS TO ORGANIZE

An organization will soon be formed that ought to, and undoubtedly will, prove very beneficial to the San Joaquin For some time past the newsyand, For any content of the second with favor a proposition to organize a San Joaquin Valley Press Association. The different sections have in past times displayed more or less jealonsy of each ther, but within the past year or so a better feeling has spring up, and the people of the valley have vidently come to a realization of the rather ancient rath that in union there is strength.

truth that in union there is strength.

There is no doubt that the citrus fair held in this city recently, in which most of the counties of the valley participated, had an axcellent effect beyond the mere encouragement of the citrus fruit industry. It demonstrated that the products of the different counties were very much the same and, therefore, that their interest were identical. The liberal manner in which the outside exhibitors were treated and the localizable while made an axcellant impression and had a now-erful influence in removing jealuasies and creating a better feeling.

It was immediately after the close of the fair that the newspapers began discussing that the newspapers began decueing the advisability of forming a valley passe association, and the proposition met with general tavor. Matters are so far advanced that a meetine has been called by Editor C. D. Radcliffe of the Merced San for the purpose of organizing such an association. The mesting of the valley editors and newspaper proprietors will be held in Freezo on Saturday, February 20th, at 2 p.m., and it is expected that there will be a good attendance.

Death of Mrs. Ruge.

Death of Mrs. Ruge.

Mrs. Bells Handolph-Ruge, who died in this city yesterday of consumption, will be well rumembered by many Fresnans, though she had been absent for a number of years prior to her ideath. About six years ago she went to the situe of Washington, where she was married. Mr. Ruge died about a year ago. Mrs. Ruge returned from the north recently, intending to go to Porterville, She stopped in Fresno, where she took a turn for the worse and died. Mrs. Ruge was formerly hookkeeper for W. T. Riggs and was a very settinable ledy. Her funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Stephens & Bean's undertaking parlors.

THEY HAVE NO LICENSE

SALOON KEEPERS WHO VIOLATE THE LAW.

Never Fail to Give the Importunate Tax Collector the Glassy Eye.

There are several saloon keepers in this city who are conducting their busi-ness without a county liceuse, and the ealann keepers who pay such a licenso nees without a county necess, and the salon keepers who pay such a license are naturally dissatisfied at this condition of affairs. They have to pay $50 a quarter for a county license and say that they are put at a disadvantage in having to compote with those who evade the tax. All they ask is that the violators of the law be compolled to pay the license are be punished.

Those who have failed to take out a county license are George Rupert, W. G. Barnum and Major J. H. Simpson, Rupert is about three quarters in arrears, Barnum two quarters and Simpson two quarters.

Recently Tax Collector Moodey furnished the supervisors with a liat of salons keepers who were doing business without a license. The board turned over the list to District Attorney Snow, who notified the delinquents and succeeded in inducing most of them to pay. Rupert, Barnum and Simpson, however, pleaded for more time and were granted it.

whated for more time and were transfer to the control of the Saudes trial, and the district attorney had to postpone action in the matter. He now has less work on his hands and informed a Respublican reporter yesterday that he would see to it that the delinquents took out a county licensee. They will probably be given final notice and if they fail to obey the law will be vigorously prosecuted.
